

I'll tell you my Kraków...

WHO?

wIEm what Innovative Education means

- ⊗ when you need to cope with digital exclusion
- ⊗ when new technologies are a bridge between generations

*The elderly people have their stories.
Stories they would like to tell – moving, funny, captivating.
The stories of Kraków in which they were young.*

Young people may look at their city ...

through their grandparents' eyes ...

through new technologies
they are familiar with...

through new technologies
they can teach to their grandparents ...

through new technologies
they can learn together.

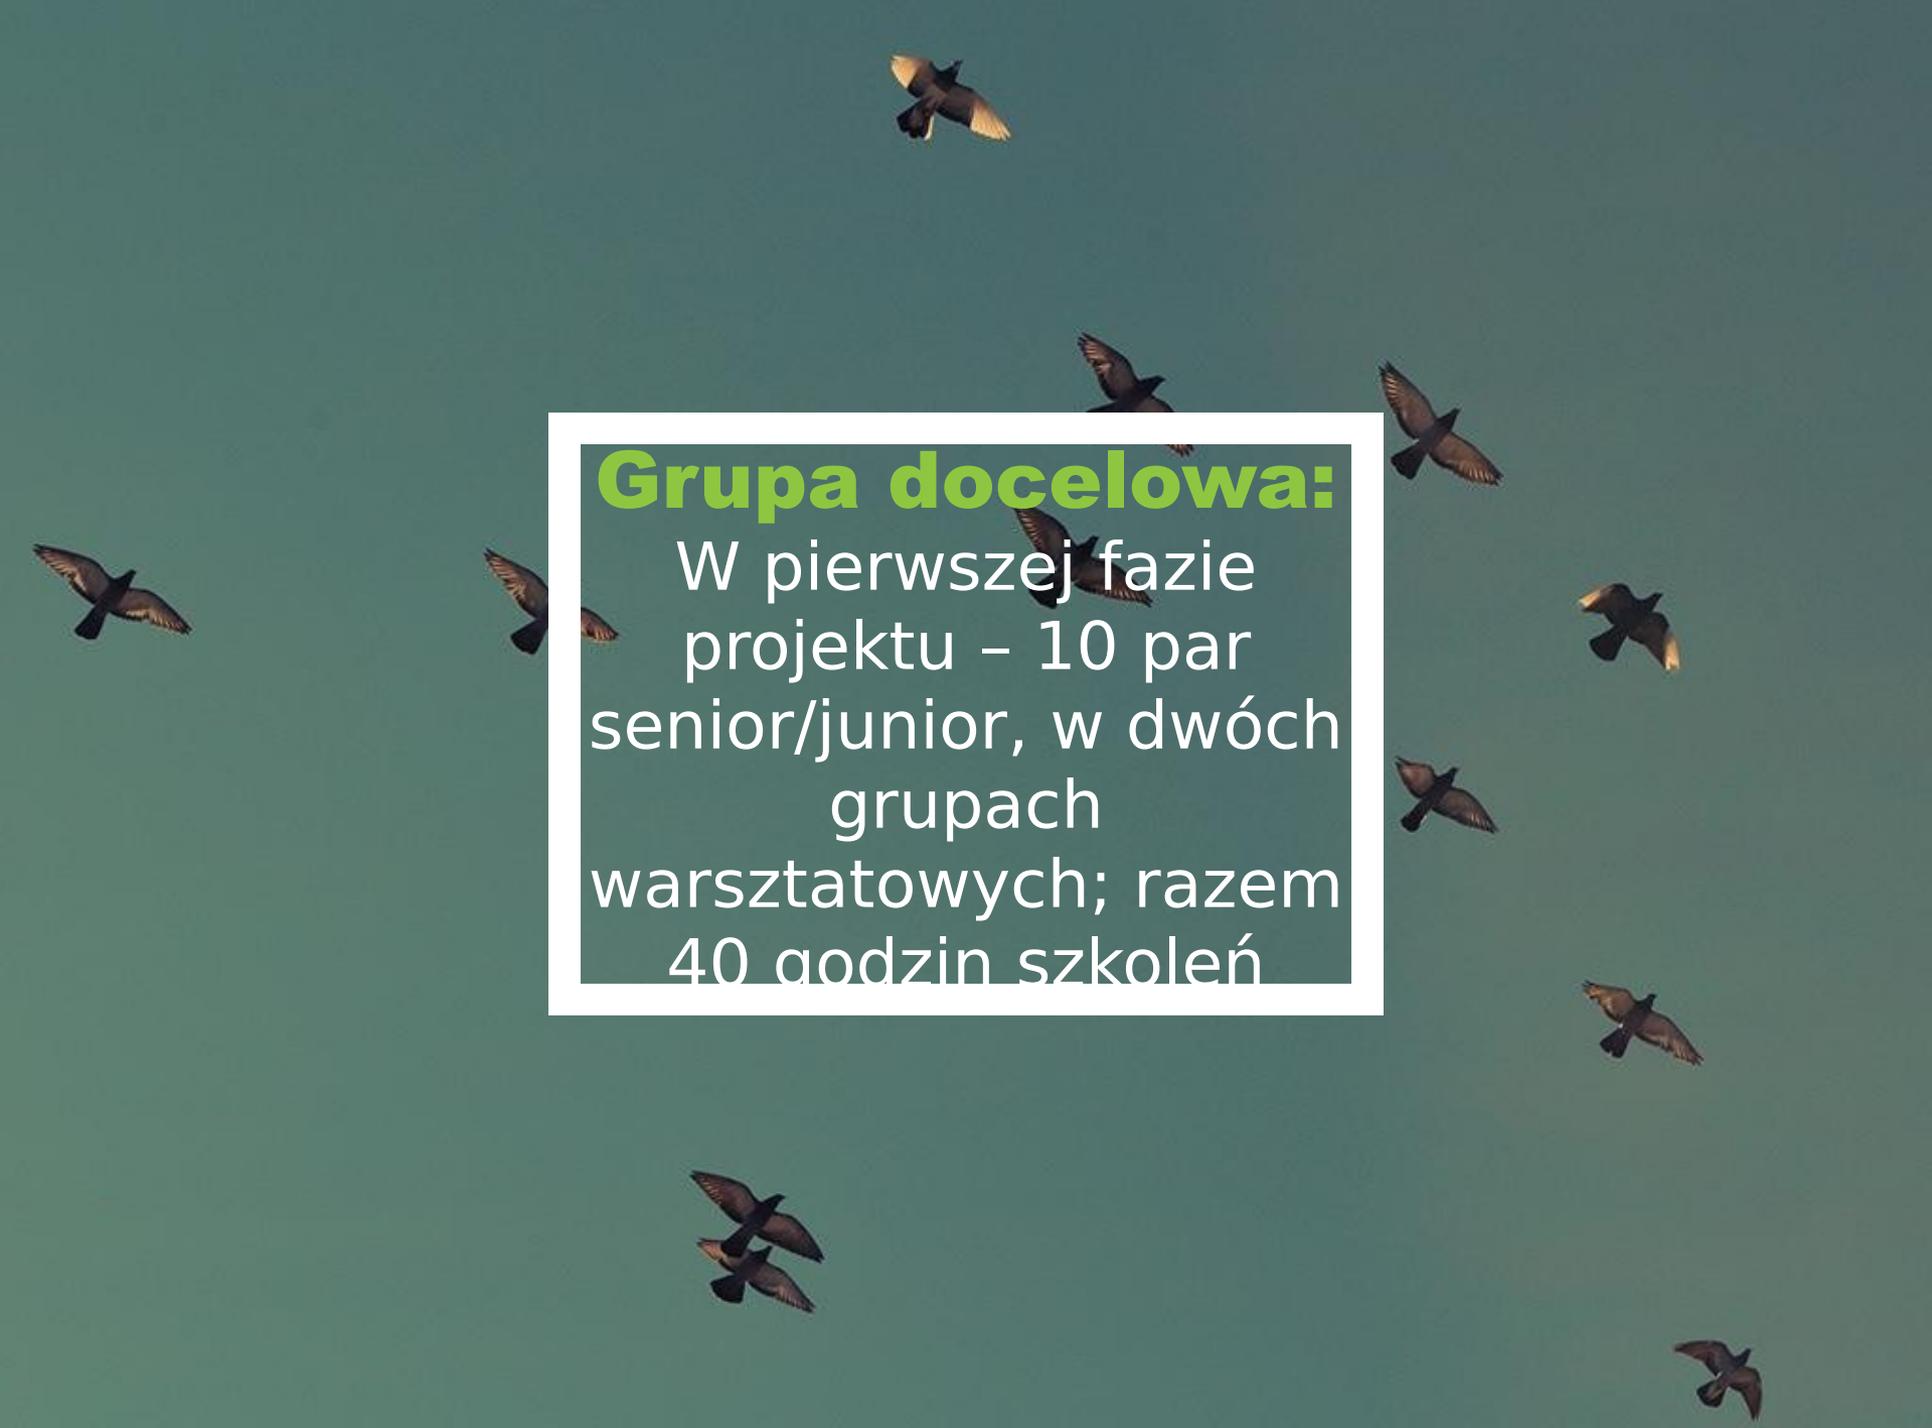

WHAT?

- A series of workshops of senior/junior pairs on how to tell digital stories
- A webpage with stories of the seniors' Krakow, digitalised by with / for the juniors

PROJECT LEADER

Natalia Góralczyk, a teacher of English as a foreign language at Collegium Medicum, Uniwersytet Jagielloński and a PhD candidate at Uniwersytet Pedagogiczny in Kraków. She specialises in language education of the elderly people.

Grupa docelowa:

W pierwszej fazie projektu – 10 par senior/junior, w dwóch grupach warsztatowych; razem 40 godzin szkoleń

CREDITS

Special thanks to all the people who made and released these awesome resources for free:

- Presentation template by SlidesCarnival
- Photographs by Unsplash